

Custom cabinets

A brand new house sounds like a great way to refresh your surroundings, although for many that just isn't an option in today's economy. The reasons for moving to a new home may be that you dreamed of an updated kitchen, a customized home office, or a built-in entertainment center. Why not make those projects happen today in your existing home?

Many think that manufactured cabinets are the hassle free way to remodel their home. Manufactured lines can be installed cheaply and quickly, although what you are paying for is not much more than painted particle board. Believe it or not custom cabinets are not only affordable, but they are designed for you and your lifestyle. With custom cabinets you are making an investment that is durable and will pass the test of time.

on a budget

At GFR Inc. custom cabinets and furniture, we believe that any custom project is within your reach. GFR Inc. is a small, family owned and operated cabinet shop located in Lancaster, South Carolina. The owner, George Remensnyder, is a third generation general contractor and woodworker. To see samples of his work you can choose to look online, www.gfrremodeling.com, or you may visit the GFR Inc. cabinet shop showroom. Custom cabinets and furniture are affordable, and if you dream it he can build it within any budget.

From the start to the finish of your project, there are many options that make custom cabinets fit into any price range. Once you have an idea of what you want your project to look like, schedule an appointment to discuss your project with the cabinetmaker. There are a number of options in wood types (GFR Inc. does not use particle board in any of the cabinets), finish types, and hardware options that will make your project affordable. George can even match color samples to existing cabinets in your home. If you want to add cabinets to an existing office or kitchen you can, and no one will be able to tell the difference when the project is finished. Going green for your project? GFR Inc. also utilizes green finishes and glazes that are safe for you and the environment.

Utilizing computer software, George can help you visualize your project by creating a virtual tour of your project before it is even built. When your project is completed you will have high quality pieces that not only add value to your home, but will also be enjoyed for years to come. Everyone needs to be budget conscience, but why sacrifice quality? Custom cabinets will add value and beauty to your existing home.
